Announcement of delisting from JASDAQ

The Wacom Board of Directors has decided to delist its common stock from JASDAQ as of October 31, 2006. Please refer to the details below.

1. Delisting reason

Wacom joined the Tokyo Stock Exchange 1st section on December 27, 2005. As a result, Wacom was cross-listed on both JASDAQ and the TSE1 market. However, Wacom decided to concentrate on TSE1 transactions, which led to its decision to be delisted from JASDAQ.

2. Listed stock exchange besides JASDAQ

Tokyo Stock Exchange 1st section (from December 27, 2005)

3. Date of delisting motion

October 31 (Tuesday), 2006

4. Future outlook

After the delisting motion is accepted by JASDAQ, Wacom common stock will be assigned to the disposition section from November 1, 2006. In principle, Wacom will be delisted one month later.

Wacom is already listed on TSE1 and traded on the market. Therefore, investors will not be substantially affected by our decision to delist from JASDAQ.
